

RESOURCING/ Additional Information

School of Mathematics, Statistics and Actuarial Science

The School, with slight changes in name, has existed from the earliest days of the University of Kent and is part of the Faculty of Sciences within the University. It offers a number of undergraduate and postgraduate programmes in Mathematics, Statistics, Actuarial Science and Finance. Currently there are over 1,000 students pursuing these programmes. There are approximately 55 full-time academic and 17 support staff based in the School as well as a number of part-time academics, with about 30% of academic staff being female. The academic staff includes an EPSRC Established Career Fellow, an EPSRC Postdoctoral Fellow and the research staff includes a NERC Fellow. SMSAS has recently received an Athena SWAN Silver award, the first department at Kent and one of just nine university mathematics departments in the UK to receive the Athena SWAN Silver Award. The School is also a supporter of the London Mathematical Society's Good Practice Scheme.

The present postgraduate enrolment is approximately 250 full-time equivalent students on our postgraduate taught and research programmes. We currently offer the following taught programmes: MSc in Mathematics and its Applications, MSc in Applied Actuarial Science, MSc in Statistics and MSc in Statistics with Finance. We also offer postgraduate research programmes in Mathematics, Statistics and Actuarial Science.

There are strong research groups in Mathematics and Statistics and growing research strength in Actuarial Science. In the 2014 Research Excellence Framework (REF), 100% of the School's research was judged to be of international quality, with all members of the Mathematics and Statistics groups who were eligible for UoA10 of REF2014 included in our submission. The School's environment was judged to be conducive to supporting the development of world-leading research. SMSAS has grown significantly in recent years and moved into a new building in Spring 2017.

A fuller description of SMSAS and its activities is available on the web at:

The Centre of Actuarial Science, Risk and Investment

The Centre of Actuarial Science, Risk and Investment (CASRI) provides a focus for research and teaching in Actuarial Science and Finance related programmes. In teaching there is a strong emphasis on accreditation, leading to exemptions from professional examinations, and many CASRI staff are qualified actuaries. Research areas include capital assessment techniques relating to new regulations in financial services, the implications of genetic information for insurance, mortality and longevity risk, identification and quantification of liquidity risk in financial markets and enterprise risk management, in particular, investigating ways of calculating and communicating tail dependencies.

The other two academic groups within SMSAS are:

The Mathematics Group

The Mathematics Group at Kent currently consists of 7 Professors (one of whom has an EPSRC Established Career Fellowship), 2 Readers, 5 Senior Lecturers, and 10 Lecturers.

The research interests of the Mathematics Group include non-linear phenomena, applied analysis and differential equations, geometric integration, integrable systems, orthogonal polynomials and special functions, Lie groups and moving frames, mathematical physics and quantum groups, numerical analysis, representation theory and invariant theory, computational algebra, homotopy theory, algebraic geometry, discrete mathematics, analysis of partial differential equations and spectral theory, metric geometry, operator theory and combinatorics.

The Statistics Group

The research interests of the Statistics Group at Kent cover a wide spectrum, including both methodological and applied work. The main areas of emphasis are biological and ecological statistics, including strong involvement in the National Centre for Statistical Ecology (<http://www.ncse.org.uk>), spatial and shape statistics, financial econometrics, genetics, neuroimaging, applied probability and risk, non-parametric regression, and Bayesian methods, particularly Bayesian non-parametrics and MCMC methods.

Athena SWAN Charter for Women in Science

As part of the Faculty of Sciences, the School has an Institutional Bronze Athena SWAN Award. With the aim of further embedding equal opportunities for women within its working practices, the School has recently received an Athena SWAN Silver award.

About the University of Kent

The University of Kent is a leading UK university producing world-class research, rated internationally excellent and leading the way in many fields of study. Our 20,000 students are based at campuses and centres in Canterbury, Medway, Athens, Brussels, Paris, Rome and Tonbridge.

With 97% of our research judged to be of international quality in the most recent Research Assessment Framework (REF2014), our students study with some of the most influential thinkers in the world. Universities UK recently named research from the University as one of the UK's 100 Best Breakthroughs of the last century for its significant impact on people's everyday lives.

We are renowned for our inspirational teaching. Awarded a gold rating, the highest, in the UK Government's Teaching Excellence Framework (TEF), we were presented with the Outstanding Support for Students award at the 2018 Times Higher Education (THE) Awards for the second year running.

Our graduates are equipped for a successful future allowing them to compete effectively in the global job market. More than 95% of graduates find a job or study opportunity within six months.

Known as the 'UK's European university', our international outlook is a major focus and we believe in our students developing a global perspective. Many of our courses provide opportunities to study or work abroad; we have partnerships with more than 400 universities worldwide and are the only UK university to have postgraduate centres in Athens, Brussels, Paris and Rome.

The University is a truly international community with over 40% of our academics coming from outside the UK and our students representing over 150 nationalities.

We are a major economic force in south east England, supporting innovation and enterprise. We are worth £0.9 billion to the economy of the south east and support more than 9,400 jobs in the region.

In March 2018, the Government and Health Education England (HEE) announced that the joint bid by the University of Kent and Canterbury Christ Church University for funded places to establish a medical school has been successful. The first intake of undergraduates to the Kent and Medway Medical School will be in September 2020.

We are proud to be part of Canterbury, Medway and the county of Kent and, through collaboration with partners, work to ensure our global ambitions have a positive impact on the region's academic, cultural, social and economic landscape.

Work Life Balance:	The University recognises that staff have responsibilities and interests that have to be balanced with working life. It is the University's aim to create a well-managed, flexible working environment that supports staff and their families, promotes welfare, maintains working practices and provides a productive balance between work and life outside work. Operational needs must be taken into account, but managers are encouraged to be innovative in organising their team and respond positively to requests to alter working patterns to enable staff to fulfil more effectively their professional and personal commitments.

Childcare:	Oaks Day Nursery (Canterbury Campus):  The Oaks Nursery based at the Canterbury Campus is an excellent benefit for staff and a great asset to the University.  Places are offered on a first come first served basis and baby places are particularly limited so staff may wish to make contact as soon as their pregnancy is confirmed.  For more information: http://oaksnurserykent.co.uk/ Medway Campus:  There is no University run day nursery at the Medway Campus, however the closest nursery to the campus is run by Busy Bees. For more information: http://www.busybeeschildcare.co.uk/nursery/chatham In October 2018 the Government launched a new Tax-Free Childcare scheme; new members of staff may now be able to get tax-free childcare paying up to £500 every 3 months (£2,000 per year) for each child to help with childcare costs.  See https://www.gov.uk/help-with-childcare-costs/tax-free-childcare for further information.
Nursery Salary Exchange Scheme:	Nursery Salary Exchange Scheme  Workplace Nurseries are childcare facilities provided by an employer and which are offered to employees, through a tax efficient salary sacrifice scheme. The Workplace Nursery Salary Exchange Scheme (for users of the Oaks Nursery on Canterbury Campus) enables eligible staff to opt to receive a lower salary – a salary exchange – in return for the University paying an equivalent amount of his/her nursery fees, via an amendment to contract. This arrangement means staff agree to receive a lower amount of gross pay and in return will be provided with free (or part thereof) workplace nursery places.
